*Exclusions and limitations apply. The plans do not cover issues occurring before the coverage effective date. Repair costs may exceed the amount of the Plan's limit of protection. In such cases, homeowners must pay the difference between the cost of the repair and the Plan's limit of protection.

Plans cover one primary central cooling system, ducted electric central AC, and blower motor located in the furnace if necessary for proper operation of the cooling system; or heat pump if main source of cooling to the home, including air handler and the air handler's internal electric heat components.
